By THE OFFICE BOY

Well sir, begorra, St. Patrick's day is only one day away, and I've been rummaging around to see if I could find my old green necktie to wear, but so far all I could find was an orange one, so that puts me in an embarrassing spot.

Anyway, what I started to say was that the VFW is giving their first annual St. Patrick's day dance Friday night in the new VFW hall, and I expect every Irishman in this territory will be there, and some what ain't, too!

I've heard it said that members of the organization are selling tickets for the affair, but here it is a day before the dance and not a single one has asked me to buy a ticket, and I was planning on taking my girl, too, provided I could raise the two bucks.

Well, I guess I can buy them at the door, though it won't make such an impression on my G. F. if I don't have reserved floor space, but she says I don't need floor space because I always dance on her feet all night.

C. U. Later.
P. S.: If I can't find anything green to wear, I'll decorate my bicycle with green ribbons, just to show that I'm in the spirit for the occasion. Maybe next week I can write a real short article about the dance by listing the names of everyone that DIDN'T attend.

Frankfort Lions Present Anne Guthrie, Speaker

When the Frankfort Lion's club meet Tuesday night March 21 for their annual charter night banquet they will have an unusual and most interesting speaker, in the person of Miss Anne Guthrie. The banquet will be served in St. Peter's Evangelical church in Frankfort starting at 7 o'clock.

This group always brings good speakers to their charter night programs and this one is being looked forward to with much interest as Miss Guthrie has been on an extensive lecture tour on the west coast speaking before university clubs etc.

Miss Guthrie presents herself as a world citizen and international interpreter, having worked on five different continents in the past 20 years. During the war years she served as national secretary of the YWCA in India, Burma and Ceylon and later, as a lieutenant colonel, she organized welfare work for women of the British Army. Since the war she served as Official Observer to the United Nations for the National YWCA and as consultant for the world's YWCA on the economic and social council, attending the 1948 assembly at Paris.

Those who remember Dr. Preston Bradley's appearance at last year's Charter Night banquet will find Miss Guthrie as interesting and entertaining. She recently spoke before the Hollywood Studio club, and Mrs. Cecil B. DeMille commented that Miss Guthrie gives those attending a new appreciation of worldwide problems. Mr. Charles W. Gilkey, dean emeritus, University of Chicago chapel, states of her, "She is equalled by few, if any, of our acquaintances in her combination of human insight and first hand experience in international and interracial relationships."

Her topic will be "Today—A Grand and Awful Time." In addition to Miss Guthrie there will be the usual group singing led by Arthur Lambrecht and a men's quartet from the Chicago Heights Kiwanis club. The public is invited to attend. All Lions club members have tickets available.

The league record now stands at 14 to 2 with two remaining games to be played. Don't forget to attend Friday night's double header.

Firemen and Post Plan 4 day Fair

Everyone is urged to hold August 10, 11, 12, 13 open for four days and nights of fun, thrills and laughter. Why? Because this is the time set aside for the "Annual Exposition" sponsored by the American Legion Post No. 526 of Orland and The Orland Park Firemen.

The committees are now functioning very well and it is said that this affair will be the best yet with its rides and games for the kiddies and adults. Arrangements are being drawn up for a large display of farm implements and equipment with a contest to discover the best in home preserving. Let us not forget the above dates, and a note on the calendar at the present time will help us to remember. More later.

We Thank You All

We desire to extend our grateful thanks to the Frankfort and Tinley Park volunteer fire departments and to our neighbors and friends who helped us during our recent fire.

FIRE DESTROYS OLD LANDMARK

An old landmark built more than 100 years ago, was totally destroyed by fire Monday morning. The fire which started about 9 a. m., was caused by an overheated stove.

The house, on the Henry Hiller farm, on 159th street in Homer township, is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hiller, Jr. The couple, who are newly married, moved into the house recently and they lost the entire contents. Damages were set at $13,000. The place in the early days was known as the Nelson Bump farm.

COUNTY GROUPS IN COMBINED CONCERT

It has been announced that the Joliet Symphony orchestra and the Will county rural chorus will give a joint concert in the J. T. H. S. auditorium Sunday, March 26 at 2:30 p. m.

The Joliet Symphony orchestra will render two or three numbers, as will the Will county rural chorus. The two will also be heard in several selections.

The Joliet Symphony orchestra, conducted by Pasquale Crescenti, has been a cultural asset of this community since the early days of World War I, and the Will county rural chorus, with its 70 voices recruited from all over Will county, has won many state honors for its excellence. It is directed by W. Arthur Eneix of Lockport.

It was pointed out that this concert will be an "extra" and that season tickets for the three regular concerts given by the Joliet Symphony orchestra will not be honored at this concert. Tickets for the combined concert will soon go on public sale, at a price of $1.00 each for adults and 35 cents for students.

The complete program will be announced soon.

Marley Farm Group Has Successful Year

The 1950 Marley Farm Life program was concluded with a potluck banquet in the Marley church, Wednesday night. The speaker, Harry Adams, earth science instructor of Joliet township high school, showed slides and gave a running commentary on the scenic pictures of our country which included the Grand Canyon, and those showing soil erosion. He also showed pictures on tolerance.

These educational meetings have been very successful and were well attended. Two meetings were omitted due to bad weather and the coal situation. Mrs. Raymond Carlson served as president of the group and the advisers were Max Kuster of JTHS agriculture department, and the Rev. William Bingham, pastor of the Marley church.

The group plans to continue the program and Mrs. Lester Sayers was elected to serve as president for the next season.

CARD AND BUNCO

The New Lenox Home bureau will sponsor a card and bunco party in the school Saturday evening, March 18 at 8 o'clock. All games played and there will be a cake walk.

4H Camp Fund Drive From March 22-27

A campaign to raise funds for a Will county 4H Camp will be put on March 22 to 27, and will be under the direction of township chairmen or co-chairmen.

Included in this drive are also funds to be used for lighting a soft ball diamond located near the Will-DuPage Service company warehouses. This diamond will be used exclusively for rural ball teams, such as 4H clubs, rural youth, county league, men over 35 teams and other soft ball teams which plan to participate in the county sport festival program.

A goal of $7,000 has been set in order to meet both of these causes. The Public Service company of Northern Illinois donated several acres of land near Kankakee to the 4H clubs of Illinois in order that they might have a camp to attend during the summer. A goal of one million dollars was set up to equip these camps for operation. 4H members were asked to raise one half with business and industry providing the rest. Will county has met about two-thirds of its goal. If this drive is successful no further fund raising will be necessary for the next few years.

It is planned that all people in rural communities will be contacted, but in case any person is not they may mail contributions to Ray Alderson at the Farm Bureau office, Joliet. Anyone interested in working on this drive should contact Mr. Alderson or attend the kick-off pot luck supper at Sportsman's hall, in Manhattan March 21, starting at 6:30 and followed by movies and slides on 4H camp work in the state.

G. O. P. TO HOLD PUBLIC MEET IN VFW HALL

In order to give all voters an opportunity to meet the Republican candidates for this coming primary election, and thus to help them make their decision for whom to vote, a meeting has been arranged to be held in the new VFW hall on Wolf road, Mokena, Thursday, evening March 23.

Everyone is cordially invited to this gathering, which is really not a rally, but where candidates will appear and speak a few words to give the voters an opportunity to hear them. Any person who has desired to run for an office on the Republican ticket has had that privilege.

There is no charge for admission and coffee and doughnuts will be served free at the close. This is in order to give those present an opportunity to visit with the candidates and with those present at the close of the meeting.

Elmer Cooper, Republican committeeman and Mrs. Margaret Semmler, Republican committee woman for Mokena who are arranging the meeting are also extending a cordial invitation to residents of nearby townships, men and women to attend. Remember the date, next Thursday evening, March 23 starting at 8 o'clock in the new VFW hall on Wolf road, Mokena.

There will also be a large county GOP rally in Joliet Saturday evening, March 25 to be held in the Elks ballroom. Featuring this meeting will be Everett W. Dirksen of Pekin, candidate for the U. S. Senate. Hearing him alone will be well worth anyone's time to attend. Everyone in the county is invited to the rally which is being arranged by the Will County Republican Women's club.

Sue for Possession Of Farm and $10,000

Joseph Kohl and Ben Mager have filed suit in the circuit court to regain possession of their farm in Frankfort township and $10,000. They charge that the farm, south of route 52 on Mokena road, is still in possession of Roscoe and Elda Dryer, although their lease expired March 1, 1949.

The law firm of Delaney, Bedford and Stephanich are representing the complainants who allege that they had a contract to sell the property to Peter J. and Florence Bajornas. This sale contract, provided for the possession of the property on March 1 and it is claimed the Dryers refuse to vacate. The $10,000 is being asked to cover the loss sustained by the co-owners Kohl and Mager, not being able to complete the transaction.

School Body Studies Plans for Addition

Elmer Cooper, president of the Mokena school board, with board members Lawrence Kohl and John Scarth and accompanied by Louis F. Bottino, county superintendent visited several schools Tuesday to study methods used to enlarge the buildings.

Since a need for more class rooms has developed and will become more urgent as the number of school children increases, the board is considering an addition to the building. They inspected the Limestone school in Kankakee county and the school at Clifton, Ill., where additions have been added recently.

Several different types of buildings were viewed in order for the board members to compare the costs and most practical methods of making additions. At present some of the Mokena school classes are using the stage and a corner of the gymnasium.

Food Demonstration At Goodson's Store

A frozen food demonstration will be presented at the Goodson Farm Equipment store in Tinley Park, Wednesday, March 22 starting at 2 p. m. Evelyn Songderoth, home economist and specialist in the preparation of frozen foods will show the conveniences of living the "freezer way." She will have a wealth of information for those who are already using a freezer, with many helpful hints on using it more efficiently.

During the one hour demonstration a complete meal will be prepared from the freezer and served for all to taste. At the close of the meeting refreshments will be served. The public is cordially invited to attend and the demonstration is free of charge. The Goodson company is the local International Harvester dealer.

Fern Louise Mooney Marries Norman Lee Christiansen of Manhattan

The marriage of the former Fern Louise Mooney, daughter of Worth B. Mooney, and the late Mrs. Mooney, to Norman Lee Christiansen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Christiansen of Manhattan, took place Sunday afternoon March 12 at 4 o'clock in the Methodist church at New Lenox.

The Rev. Ralph L. Miller officiated at the double ring, candle-light ceremony. White carnations, yellow gladioli, and palms decorated the altar of the church.

Mr. Mooney gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a white satin gown fashioned with a fitted bodice long train, illusion neckline edged and full skirt extending with a wide ruffle of lace, a bustle back, and long tapering sleeves. Tiny covered buttons lined the back of the bodice to the waist. Her finger tip net veil was held in place with a coronet of lace, and her bride's bouquet was of sweet peas and white daffodils. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

During the ceremony, Mrs. F. Carlton Cole sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly," and Rev. Miller sang "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Howard Ayres, pianist.

Miss Joyce Frick, and Mrs. Donald Gilleland, friends of the bride, lighted the candles. Miss Frick wore aqua, and Mrs. Gilleland wore pink net over taffeta gowns.

Miss Janet Mooney, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Miss

The village board, at their meeting Tuesday night, March 7, passed an ordinance which in effect raises the tavern licenses from $300 a year to $500 per annum.

This was in the form of an amendment to Ordinance No. 279 which was declared void by the passing of the new Ordinance No. 355.

The ordinance reads: "License Fee. The annual fee for each such license shall be five hundred ($500) dollars, payable in two equal installments of two hundred and fifty ($250) dollars each. The first installment to be due and payable on the first of April and the second installment to be due and payable on the first day of October of each year. This amendment to take effect March 31st, 1950."

In statements by three tavern owners of the village, their opinions seem to be about the same. They all feel that the village board should have given them an opportunity to state their side of the situation on the raise in license fees.

The general opinion of citizens of the community is that the village board took this step in order to raise funds for the repairing of streets in the village.

One of the tavern owners told a representative of this newspaper that the Board president had agreed to get the board together with the tavern owners to discuss the matter with the possible view of settling the question to the satisfaction of all concerned in the near future.

Life and Death

A law has been proposed in Congress which would "socialize" this country, and every business and every individual within it. It is known as the Spence Act—H. R. 2756. It would give the government, through the President, the power to take over the economic system of the nation if, in his sole opinion, materials or facilities were in short supply, if prices were too high, or if some other situation affected the national security, the foreign policy, or our economic growth.

Here, in part, is what the President could do if the bill became law, as described by John T. Flynn in his book "The Road Ahead."

1. He could decide how much steel, lumber, or anything else could be produced. Industry would be compelled to meet whatever production budget he laid down.

2. He could, if he decided they were necessary, build government plants and factories to produce commodities of any kind.

3. He could establish priorities for materials, on either voluntary or a compulsory basis. Mr. Flynn observes, "Here is the power of life and death over every industrial enterprise in the land."

4. He could regulate all exports and imports.

5. He could establish maximum prices on any materials and facilities.

6. Finally, he could lay down any rules he deemed necessary to make the Act operative. These rules would have all the power of law. And, to cap the climax, he could "make such inspection of the books, records and other writings, premises or property of any person and make such investigations and conduct such hearings as may be necessary to appropriate to the enforcement or administration of this act." Of this provision, Mr. Flynn says: "Here is the power of seizure and search upon a hitherto unimaginable scale."

It may seem unbelievable that a "dictatorship bill" could ever become the law of this land. It is frightening to think that such a bill should even be seriously proposed in a free country. It would give the President the same powers that Hitler and Mussolini had, and that Stalin has. And whether one agrees or disagrees with the view of any individual President is entirely irrelevant. The principle is what counts.

Many years ago a great American said: "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty." That is truer today than ever. And this incredible measure—which all alone, could turn the United States into a total government—provides terrifying proof of it.

Harvey Savings and Loan Ass'n. Report Increased Business

New savings accounts opened in January at Harvey Federal Savings and Loan Association broke an all-time high record in the 39 years of its existence, according to monthly figures released by John Munro, Jr., Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Association.

This 1950 record was set when 163 new savings accounts, totalling $320,577.27 exceeded a previous peak of 141 accounts totalling $291,309.24 in January of 1948. These figures are exclusive of Christmas Club Savings which are usually opened in December and throughout January.

As a comparison to this increased inflow of savings dollars to this Federally insured savings institution, Mr. Munro pointed out that each January, as a rule, people utilize their savings, after receiving their semi-annual dividend, to purchase or increase their equities in homes, buy automobiles, take vacations or buy the thousand and one things that are the purpose for which they originally saved their money. In January, Harvey Federal paid out to savers $238,862.36 in addition to a record semi-annual savings dividend earnings of $48,471.45 paid on December 31, 1949. This represents a most substantial amount, a majority of which is spent locally for desired items and needs.

The fact that Harvey Federal Savings, at the end of January, reached an all-time peak of 4,574 savings and investment accounts is indicative that people in Harvey and the surrounding communities have learned the value of systematic savings, earning periodic dividends on these savings and long-range planning their savings for purposes that go to make a fuller and more enjoyable life and living.

Harvey Federal Savings and Loan Association has grown in size and assets consistently since its inception in 1911 by helping to teach new generations and new families the value of thrift as well as financing and refinancing purchases of homes—both major factors that help build great communities. Harvey Federal Savings and Loan Association in March will mark its 39th year with an unbroken record of dividend earnings since it was founded.

4 Controls Combined Damage Corn Borers

A four-point control program of clean plowing, midseason planting use of adapted hybrids and proper spraying is needed to control corn borers to any great extent, reports G. C. Decker, insect specialist at the Illinois Natural History Survey. He emphasizes that it takes all four controls together, not just one alone, to do a good job.

Decker points out that clean plowing will reduce overwintering borer population in a field by about 98 percent. Poor plowing, on the other hand, will only reduce the pests by about 85 to 90 percent, and single disking by only about 80 percent.

On midseason planting Decker says, "The corn borer population has always dropped when farmers could not plant their corn before May 15. If they hold off until after May 15, preferably until about May 25, the corn borer threat will be greatly reduced."

"Less than two percent of the borers hatching on young plants survive. But you can expect up to 25 percent survival on plants approaching the tasseling stage. Where borers have not been a problem, our experimental tests during the past five years have shown that the acre yield is the same for fields planted the last of May as it is for fields planted the first of May."

The entomologist also recommends planting a vigorous, strong-stalked hybrid. It will yield more, regardless of borer infestation.

Insecticides are effective, too. Decker says that one DDT treatment, properly timed and applied, will cut the borer population as much as 70 percent. In fields moderately to heavily infested, this degree of control may increase your yield as much as five or 10 bushels an acre.

Each additional application of insecticide seems to reduce the remaining population by about 50 percent, he says.

Here's Decker's four-point borer control program in a nutshell:

1. Before May 10, plow under all cornstalks and other crop residues, and do a clean job in every field.
2. Join hands with your neighbors to avoid planting the first two weeks of May, particularly on fertile, high-productive soil.
3. Plant adapted hybrids.
4. Apply insecticides later in all fields that develop even moderate corn borer infestations.

Another Side of the Question

By Lester R. Benston
Rehabilitation Director, Illinois American Legion

Recently the Taxpayers Federation of Illinois sounded off in the public prints rapping the American Legion for its opposition to the Hoover Commission report on the reorganization of the executive branch of the government.

The Department of Illinois, The American Legion, is curious to know how much this so-called taxpayers' group may know about veterans' affairs. Even more so, just what their interest in veterans' welfare may be.

There is a most striking similarity between their approach to this subject and that used by the old Economy League in 1933, which for a year and eight days completely wrecked veterans' benefits, pensions, compensations and hospitalization.

The Taxpayers Federation version is that medical or other benefits were not to be curtailed under recommendations of the Hoover Report.

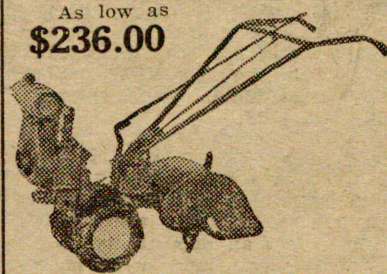

A careful analysis shows, however, that it is proposed to set up a huge medical-hospital system to be known as the United Medical Administration.

Through this administration, all veterans would receive the same type of care as the members of the Armed Forces and, in some cases the dependents of men in service. Under this system, the veteran would lose his identity.

This is because additionally the same hospital system also would handle civil service and civilian employees and much of the medical program carried on now by the U. S. Public Health Service.

Nothing would be created if the recommended United Medical Administration came into being except tremendous chaos and confusion, added costs to taxpayers (and veterans do pay taxes, too), and an unprecedented pushing around for wounded, disabled and sick veterans.

Touching on the Hoover commission proposals to take all insurance matters out of the Veterans Administration, the statement of the Taxpayers Federation implies Col. Frank D'Olier, past national commander of The American Legion, favored such a move.

Investigation clearly shows D'Olier and his task force committee made a study of the insurance programs of the Veterans Administration two years ago, at which time the Veterans Administration was struggling under the huge load of straightening out some 1,000,000 insurance records.

The recommendation of D'Olier was that the corrections which his task force submitted be made within the Veterans Administration and not set up a completely new agency.

Much is made by the Taxpayers Federation of the stand of Gen. Paul R. Hawley, former chief medical director of the Veterans Administration.

Officials of The American Legion and other veterans' organizations who have first-hand knowledge of the type of medical administration he dispensed are not impressed by any recommendations he makes.

My honest opinion, after observing the medical program of the past 28 years, justifies the expression that during his two years in Veterans Administration during the office in the Veterans Administration we had the most expensive and most inefficient medical program.

The Taxpayers Federation also makes much fuss about the alleged fact that government hospitals are less than 60 per cent occupied and that hundreds of millions are being spent for new government hospitals.

Careful examination of the Hoover Commission report does not substantiate any Veterans Administration 60 per cent non-occupancy claim. A further check will reveal that the empty beds were in the Army, Navy and government (other than Veterans Administration) hospital.

Actually, presently there is a waiting list of some 20,000 veterans who have applied for hospitalization in Veterans Administration hospitals and are not being admitted because of lack of beds.

The American Legion has always been the severest critic of the Veterans Administration and will continue to be so. But there is nothing in any Hoover Commission proposal which cannot be accomplished and much better, within the four walls of the Veterans Administration.

The American Legion is for economy as much as anyone. But it fails to see what efficiency can be achieved when it is proposed to break up the Veterans Administration into five separate agencies, with consequent duplication, additional workers and dispersal of millions of records.

Things to Know

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is one of a series of articles about venerable diseases prepared for publication by the Cook County Department of Public Health. Names of patients are confidential records and cannot be revealed. The stories are being released in an effort to spread information about one of the most serious diseases in America today and to acquaint Cook County residents with the diagnosis and treatment facilities that are available to them.

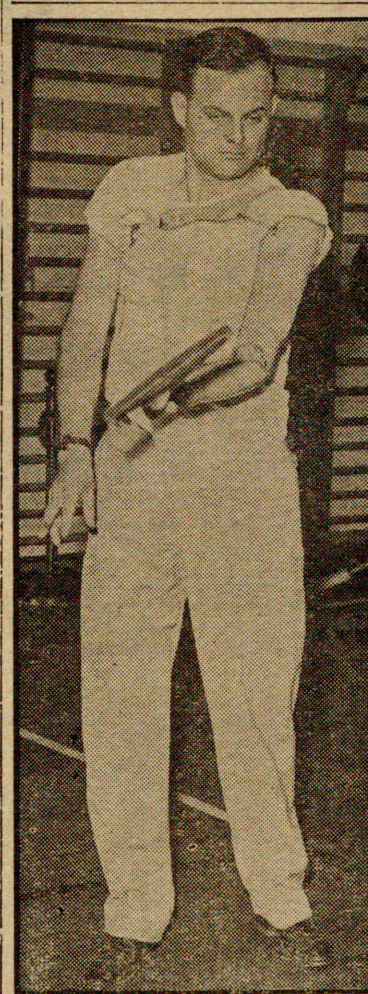

Bill is only 41 years old, married and has three children. He has been a steady, reliable worker in this business firm, but has never been able to make his way ahead in it. It wasn't that Bill couldn't do the work qualifying him for advancement or that he didn't get along with people. It just seemed as though he could never get to feeling right physically.

The company Bill worked for liked him and appreciated his long and excellent service in his job. But everytime they thought of promoting him it seemed that his health held him back.

Finally, on one of his visits to the doctor, a blood examination was made. The results of the examination showed that Bill had latent syphilis. This meant that he had contracted syphilis a long time ago and that the disease spirochets, or germs, had been at work in his body without his knowing it.

Bill's doctor turned him over to the County Health Department for treatment. The health authorities wanted to use the rapid treatment on Bill, but were unable to, due to the length of time he'd had the disease. So he was started on the long slow treatment process, requiring over a year to complete.

Bill is still receiving weekly treatments, but he reports that he is feeling much better. Needless to say, he is also worth more to his company now that he is free of his old ailments.

With the No. 8, it's easy to cultivate fence rows or tight corners. It dodges field obstructions easily, turns on a dime—thanks to its close-balanced mounting near the rear tractor wheels. Easy to attach and detach, the No. 8 does exceptional work. Smooth, positive hydraulic power raises and lowers the cultivator... the automatic depth regulator maintains uniform cultivating depth over ridges, in depressions, and on the level.

Such features as sturdy, welded frame, jack-knife spring pressure on the heavy-duty cultivator bars, and husky teeth make the No. 8 a field cultivator you'll be glad to own. See us soon for full details.

JOHN DEERE ... The Quality Name in Farm Equipment

Evolution of Famous Wabash Train Since First Run in 1880's

The "Wabash Cannon Ball" is rolling again.

It's the Diesel—powered, daylight train between Detroit and St. Louis that carries the name of famous Wabash trains of the 1880's which have become immortal in folksong and legend. The present-day "Wabash Cannon Ball," like those of yesterday, provides travel with comfort and speed in keeping with the times.

History of the early "Wabash Cannon Ball" ... like the echo of its whistle ... is lost in the past. Veteran Wabash employees, most of them retired, vaguely remember the "Cannon Ball," but their memories of the train differ. There are several versions of the folksong, "The Wabash Cannon Ball," with so much variation in its route that it is evident that ballad authors exercised their full authority under "poetic license."

Some Wabash veterans recall "The Cannon Ball" as a Chicago to Kansas City train, others have it running between St. Louis and Omaha or between Detroit and Kansas City. Wabash records show at least two trains named "The Wabash Cannon Ball," one operating between Chicago and Kansas City, the other between St. Louis and Omaha.

The earliest "Wabash Cannon Ball" on record ran between Chicago and Kansas City, via Peoria and Jacksonville, Illinois and Hannibal and Moberly, Missouri. West-bound, the "Cannon Ball" made the trip in 20½ hours. East-bound, it required 21 hours and 20 minutes.

A time table of the Wabash Western, dated 1888, shows a "Wabash Cannon Ball" operating between St. Louis, Council Bluffs and Omaha, the north-bound trip requiring 15 hours and 40 minutes to go 415 miles. This Cannon Ball was a real speedster of its day. It was the fastest transportation between St. Louis and Omaha by seven hours. Connecting with the Union Pacific "Overland Limited" at Omaha, it gave the fastest service between St. Louis and the West Coast by 24 hours.

The "Wabash Cannon Balls" of the 80's were superb trains. They were equipped with smokers, parlor coaches, Pullman Palace Sleeping cars and diners. Their speed made railroad history. They were lighted with oil lamps and heated with pot-bellied stoves, familiar to all who have traded at country stores of cracker-barrel days.

The 1950 "Wabash Cannon Ball," powered by a modern Diesel locomotive, covers the 489 miles between Detroit and St. Louis in 10½ hours. From St. Louis to Detroit, it makes the run in 11 hours and 20 minutes. It has steam heat, electric lights and air conditioning features we take for granted today, but which were undreamed of in the day of the earlier "Cannon Balls." The present-day "Cannon Ball" carries an observation parlor car, de luxe coaches, and dining-lounge car... luxury travel beyond the most progressive thinking of the earlier days of railroading.

Less than 5 percent of the 24 million milk cows in the U. S. are registered animals. Of every 100 bushels of wheat produced in the U. S. since the war 36 bushels have been exported.

The Living Faith

Lesson for March 19, 1950

MANY a funeral sermon has been preached over the Christian church, but somehow the corpse never stays put. What keeps it going? All sorts of explanations have been given by unsympathetic outsiders. The church (we are told) is an upper-class hobby, or a lower-class opiate; it is a social club, it is a burial society; it panders to pride, or it is a perverse form of self-torture; it is kept alive by a well-run organization. Such explanations do not explain. The truth is at heart quite simple: The church is kept alive by faith. What is Christian faith, the faith of the church? A study of the Scripture for this week, or a broader search through the New Testament from end to end, will convince any impartial reader of the falsehood of some of the notions about what Christian faith is.

Some have claimed that it is nothing but faith in the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man. Let the reader try to find this in the New Testament if he can.

If you had said this to an early Christian, he would have replied along this line: That is just the problem—how can we become sons of God? How can men achieve brotherhood? Others tell us that faith is belief in a series of doctrines.

Let the reader search the New Testament and see if he can find there anything about faith in a creed. Sometimes this notion takes another form—that faith originally was a belief that Jesus' beliefs were true; in other words, that faith is accepting the "religion of Jesus."

Now the church from the beginning believed that Jesus' thoughts were true thoughts; but faith was never a simple second-hand acceptance of any one's creed, not even that of Jesus. The faith we find in the New Testament is none of these things. Still less is it faith in the saints, in Mary, or in an "infallible" church.

Faith: Not About, But In ...

THE FAITH that broke out in glorious light in those early days of the church, and has continued shining down through the centuries, was not belief about anything or anybody, it was belief IN Some One; and that Some One was Jesus Christ.

There is a simply astonishing variety of ways in which he is spoken of in the New Testament. He is Son of Man, he is teacher and healer, he is the first-born of many brothers; he is Priest and Sacrifice, he is the Propitiation, the Reconciler of men to God; he is Master and Lord, he is the Word—that is, what God has to say to us; he is the Son of God, he sits on the throne of the universe, he will judge every man.

To put it quite bluntly, the church believed (and still believes) in a supernatural Christ and not only in a human Jesus. They believed in him as a teacher, as the Teacher indeed; but not merely as one whose teachings had been interrupted by an untimely death. They did not "play down" his death, on the contrary they played it up.

Christ crucified for us is always strongly in their minds. But they were far from leaving him as it were on a crucifix. Any form of Christianity that thinks of Jesus chiefly as a Christmas baby; or a starry-eyed idealist; or as a pathetic figure hanging on a crucifix is a perversion of New Testament ways of thought. Everywhere in the center is the Christ who "was dead and is alive forevermore."

There Is No Other

A YOUNG MOSLEM who became a Christian and is very happy about it, was asked what it was that changed him, for Moslems are hard to change. It was not an argument, he said, it was the lives of some missionaries in Iran whom he knew.

He wanted what they had—it was as simple as that. And he went on to say this: "Christianity doesn't have much in theology that Mohammedanism doesn't have. There is just one thing Christianity has that we didn't have, nor anything like it: Jesus Christ."

That is what—that is who wins men today, and that was the secret of the early church, and that is the secret today of the living church everywhere: Christ alive by faith in the lives of those who love him.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Handy and Easy Are Both Wrong

Handy Peterson and Easy Roberts got in quite an argument the other day over at Fred's Garage talking about the best spot to fish up at Green Lake.

"Opposite the old sawmill is the best spot," says Handy. But Easy "pooh-poohs" him. "I've seen the biggest fish caught off Cedar Point," says Easy. "I've been catching them there for years."

Then Fred goes into his office and brings out the biggest mounted rainbow trout you ever saw. "Bet that was caught at the sawmill," comments Handy. "Cedar Point," says Easy. "Well," says Fred, "you're both wrong. I caught this baby right out in the middle!"

From where I sit, there are always two (or more) sides to every story. Let's live and let live in the true American tradition of toleration. Your opinion is worth a lot, but so is the other fellow's—whether it's on politics, the best fishing spots, or whether he likes a temperate glass of beer and you like buttermilk.

Things to Know

REMEMBER

"Don't be afraid to talk about syphilis. It is a disease just like tuberculosis, and should be discussed as such. There was a time, in fact, when for some ridiculous reason, people were ashamed to talk about tuberculosis. But since tuberculosis has been brought into the open, it is being stamped out. The same can be true of syphilis. We know that the policy of treating syphilis with hush-hush delicacy has led to a condition where one person in 10 is being infected. To counteract this, let's bring syphilis into the open. Remember: it's a disease, if treated early, it can be cured." —Dr. John B. Hall, M. D., Director, Cook County Department of Public Health.

"Medical science has now given us a cure for syphilis that requires only ten days to two weeks when treatment is sought early enough," says Dr. John B. Hall, Director, Cook County Department of Public Health. "Our real problem now is getting the people to understand that they have contracted the disease and to seek proper medical treatment promptly."

Discovering the infected persons who are at large in the population has long been a problem of public health officials. One of the methods used has been the routine testing for syphilis during regular physical examinations.

Many of the industrial and business concerns here in Cook County now require complete physical examinations as an employment procedure. This has proven to be a profitable service both to the employer and the employee in discovering unrecognized venereal diseases.

A comparison of two cases here in Cook County provides an example of the benefit derived from pre-employment examinations. Let's first consider the case of Bill who has been working for a large concern for the past 19 years.

In 1850, 70 percent of the U. S. population lived on farms. In 1950, only 18 percent live on farms.

Much Valued Coal Once Was Worthless

A wagonload of anthracite coal would look mighty fetching in anyone's bin today, but as recently as 88 years ago a Philadelphian was arrested for trying to sell the worthless stuff.

The culprit, Colonel George Shoemaker, was accused of perpetrating a fraud, according to Wilbert C. Fritz, assistant professor at the University of Pittsburgh and specialist in coal research. As everybody knew at the time (1862) soft coal was the only worth burning. Anthracite's superior qualities were discovered too late to do the Colonel much good.

This incident was only one of several controversial episodes in the history of coal, as pointed out by Fritz in his article for World Book Encyclopedia.

The first reference to the use of coal in England dates back to A. D. 852, when the mineral was believed to give off poisonous gases. Still following this theory, King Edward I made the use of coal a capital offense in 1306, and at least one man was put to death for violating the law.

There appears to be a definite tie—in with coal trouble and the speaking of English, as the ancient Greeks and Chinese got along quite happily with the fuel.

The Greeks used coal several hundred years before the birth of Christ. Aristotle, Fritz points out, mentioned it in his writings; and still another reference is made to the mineral in the Book of Proverbs (26:21).

As usual, China was a little ahead of the game. Coal fires were warming the toes of the ruling Shang family as early as 1100 B. C.

SEE WHAT YOU'RE DOING!

- Because MM tractors are completely VISIONLINED ... permitting you to see easily the work being done without stretching or straining.
- Because cultivator gangs are mounted just behind the front pedestal where it is easier to see and to dodge out-of-line plants.

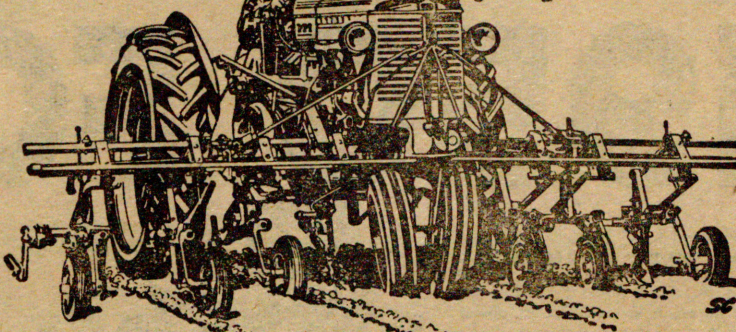

MM Universal tractors and famous Quick-On—Quick-Off cultivators are a combination hard to equal for getting work done fast and efficiently. This is especially true since new Uni-Matic Power gives added smooth, positive control. The gangs of MM cultivators enter, stay, and leave the ground in level position because of the parallel link tie-up to the main tool bar. Gauge wheels assure even ground penetration by the outer gangs no matter how uneven the field.

NEW UNI-MATIC POWER

Optional on all MM Tractors is the new hydraulic unit for raising, lowering, and controlling mounted and pull-behind implements. Get more work done every hour with less effort.

EQUIPMENT TO SUIT YOUR CROPS

A complete selection of attachments, shovels, springteeth, fertilizers and the new rotary hoe are available. Let us tell you how you can turn cultivators into drill planters at big savings.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:
Question of school reorganization has been receiving considerable amount of study by many people of Lemont, Palos Park, Orland Park, Bremen, Frankfort, New Lenox and Manhattan townships.

There has been some publicity given of the various meetings although little has been published concerning the plans brought forth in those meetings or of the results of the studies which have been made.

It is understood that most of the discussions held thus far have dealt with high school problems in the townships mentioned and that considerable amount of pertinent factual information, such as valuation tax rates, community growth, pupil load, school building costs etc. has been gathered.

It is the thought of many, that this information should be published so that the public could get the picture of some of the problems involved.

AN INTERESTED TAXPAYER

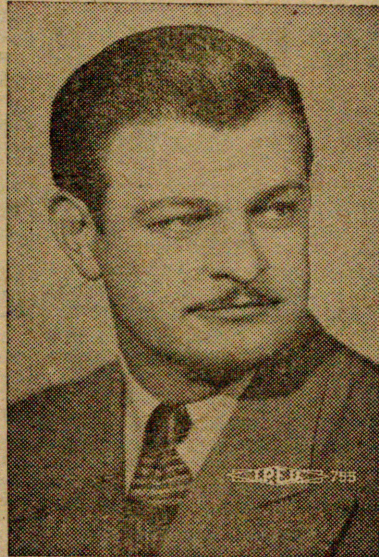

Editor's note: We know the many school board members in this area desire to give the above mentioned information as soon as they are able. We hope there will be some of the wanted information released to us soon so we may present it to the public through the columns of this newspaper.
